*The Horn of Africa is a region of nearly 100 million people.
It has great potential given its human and natural resources.
Yet it remains one of the poorest regions of the world.*

The Organizing Committee invites you to this important conference. Participating organizations include United Nations agencies, the World Bank, African organizations such as COMESA, and major universities. Six different panels of experts will present an in-depth discussion on a development strategy for the region. There will be ample opportunity for audience participation. Register early to reserve your seat.
